

Ecstasy 2015: New Year Celebrations

Ashtavakra Institute of Rehabilitation Sciences and Research experienced the vibrant and joyful atmosphere filled with prayers and social feasts on the first day of the year.

A journey of thousands steps starts with the first step, that is, a magic force dwells in all beginnings. With this motivation a hawan was organized in the premises of AIRSR to invoke and connect with nature and the cosmic energies. All the staff members escalated their happiness by enchanting the holy mantras that purified the elements in the environment and within everyone present there.

The event was considered a great opportunity to get closer to one another. Everyone wished the best for each other in the year to follow.

The main idea of the New Year celebration was to wave goodbye to the year gone-by and welcome the New Year in the hope that it will invite truckloads of happiness and joy in everyone's life.
