She expressed that the students will be surprised to know that the first literature on the history of the Hindi language was composed by a French writer "Grasim the Taisi". She also highlighted that in 1977, Atal Bihari Vajpayee, the first external affairs minister addressed the United Nations General Assembly for the first time in Hindi. The word "Namaste" is the most commonly used word in the Hindi language. The first web portal of Hindi came into existence in 2000, since then Hindi started making its mark on the Internet, which has now gained momentum. In 1918, in Hindi Sahitya Sammelan, Mahatma Gandhi for the first time talked about making the Hindi language as a national language. Gandhiji also called Hindi as the language of the public. On 26 January, 1950, Hindi was recognised as an official language in Article 343 of the Constitution.
