Report: Description in (min 250 to max 800 words)*

The hybrid mode awareness program on e-waste management was designed to combine both in-person and virtual elements to maximize reach and engagement. Recognizing the need for flexibility in the current digital age, this approach aimed to cater to diverse audience through a blend of physical events and online activities.

The main objectives of the event was :-

*to educate participants about the environment and health risks associated with improper e-waste.

*to promote the importance of recycling and proper e-waste management .

*to encourage the adoption of sustainable practices in electronic consumption.

The event was started with introductory speech of Mr. Sandeep Tiwari Nodal Officer of ECO Club. He showcased proper methods of e-waste disposal, recycling and the potential for repurposing electronic components.

E-brochures and e-paphlets were shared to provide easy to understand information about e-waste , its hazards and ways to manage it responsibly.

Ms. Sanjana Mittal Deputy Director encouraged students to bring their old or unused electronic devices for proper disposal and recycling.

Question and answer session and discussion were organized allowing participants to engage with experts and share their thoughts on E-Waste Management.

The program successfully raised awareness about the importance of e-waste management reaching young students
