Report: Description in (min 250 to max 800 words)*

In an effort to celebrate Diwali sustainably, the Eco Club organized the "Anti-Fire Campaign" with the theme of an Eco-Friendly Diwali. The activities were designed to encourage students to adopt greener practices during the festival. The event included a "Pledge Wall for Green Diwali," a slogan writing competition, and a Rangoli competition.

The main objectives of the event was :-To inspire students and staff to commit to an environmentally friendly Diwali by avoiding firecrackers and promoting eco-friendly practices. To engage students creatively in spreading the message of an eco-friendly Diwali and blend creativity with environmental awareness by encouraging the use of natural, eco-friendly colors and materials in Rangoli art.

The event will begin as per pre scheduled The First activity will be the eco-friendly Rangoli competition. Students will be invited to create Rangolis using natural, biodegradable materials like flower petals, rice flour, and organic colors. This activity will emphasize combining artistic expression with environmental responsibility. Thereafter participants will be invited to visit the "Pledge Wall" and write down their personal commitments to a green Diwali. This activity will allow students and staff to express their dedication to avoiding firecrackers, using minimal electricity, and promoting natural decor for the festival. a slogan writing competition will take place, focusing on themes related to eco-friendly Diwali practices. Students will be encouraged to craft catchy, impactful slogans that advocate for a pollution-free celebration. Judging criteria will include creativity, relevance to the theme, and originality.

As the event concludes, winners of the Rangoli competitions will be announced, and prizes will be distributed. This will be followed by a thank-you note recognizing all participants and encouraging them to spread the message of a green Diwali in their communities.

Mrs. Geeta Bhutani (Principal) encouraged students and summarizing the key takeaways and reminding everyone of the Eco Club's mission to promote sustainable practices. The Eco Club will encourage participants to adopt these eco-friendly ideas beyond the festival season.
