Report: Description in (min 250 to max 800 words)*

On 22nd November 2024, World Fisheries Day was organized by Ashtavakra Institute of Rehabilitation Science and Research to raise understanding and awareness about the importance of sustainable fisheries and marine conservation among students, teaching staff, and non-teaching staff.

The event was held on 22nd November 2024 from 1:30 PM to 2:30 PM in AIRSR Block A and was coordinated by Mr. Sandeep Tiwari, Faculty ASD.

The program commenced with an introductory speech by Ms. Kirti Goel, a student of B.Ed. ASD, who highlighted the significance of World Fisheries Day and the need for sustainable practices to protect marine ecosystems. Following this, a series of presentations were delivered by Ms. Mansi gupta, Ms. Tannu Baisoya, Ms. Preksha Gupta, Ms. Anshika, and Ms. Archana Kumari, focusing on various key aspects of World Fisheries Day, including:

- The ecological and economic importance of fisheries.
- Challenges such as overfishing, pollution, and climate change affecting marine biodiversity.
- The role of communities in adopting sustainable fishing practices.

The event underscored the message that through concerted efforts of eco clubs, schools, industries, and communities, it is possible to work towards a healthier and more sustainable aquatic environment. By conserving marine resources, we not only ensure livelihoods for millions but also contribute to mitigating environmental challenges for future generations.

The program concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by Mr. Sandeep Tiwari, who expressed gratitude to the participants and organizers for their efforts in making the event a success.
